Windfarm construction

Goldwind is closely monitoring all restrictions being announced by the Australian and Victorian Governments regarding the response to the COVID-19 virus. As it presently stands, construction works across the state are permitted to continue, and we are proceeding with the construction of the Stockyard Hill Wind Farm.

However, there have been several measures implemented to manage the risks on the wind farm site, including:

- working in small consistent teams
- teams not socialising at breaks or in meetings
- increasing social distance within offices
- increasing hygiene practices
- self isolation for any workers returning from overseas (enforced prior to the announcement of mandatory self isolation)
- ensuring if employees/contractors are not well they seek medical attention and not attend the work site.

Obviously we will act upon and manage any future directions from the Victorian or Australian Governments. The health and wellbeing of our employees, contractors and the broader community is of highest importance.

We remain focused on the installation of turbines in the south and west sections of the wind farm, with delivery of components occurring in the east section of the project.

Construction and commissioning of all three substations also remains a priority.

We are also working on the powerline which runs from the North switchyard to the West Substation.
